MIAMI, Fla., June 9 (INS)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old Floridian, led G-men this morning to the body of kidnaped Jimmy Cash, Jr., after confessing authorship of the three ransom notes and collection of the $10,000 pay-off.

The body of the five-year-old child—still clad in the pajamas he was wearing when snatched from his crib May 28 — was found in an old orchard less than a mile from the spot where the father paid the ransom a week ago.

Nearby, at a spot designated by McCall, officers found the money, which had been paid for the child's release. Continued on Page 16, Column 1

WAR AIR PIRACY

Blockade Britain's Plan

LONDON, June 9 (AP) —An alarmed Britain, spurred by news of fresh bombings today in Spanish waters, sought a course of speedy action to end repeated and increasing Insurgent air attacks on her shipping.

The bombing of the French freighter Brisbane at Denia, in which two of five persons killed were believed to be British, and an attack which disabled the British vessel Isadora at Castellon de la Plana heightened official British concern over mounting casualties.

The government was expected to act both alone and with other nations to bring pressure on Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Insurgent chief. Definite plans awaited reports from British diplomats at Barcelona and Burgos.

Britain was reported studying a proposal for an international air patrol, similar to the naval patrol already operating, and to be considering putting the question of the Insurgent attacks squarely up to Premier Mussolini of Italy.

London newspapers have suggested that Italian and German fliers were ignoring Franco's orders and singling out British ships for attack.

Also concerned over the loss of life, the Vatican was reported to be directing "continual insistence" to General Franco against bombardment of Spanish civilians.

Britain Seeks U. S. Note to Japs

LONDON, June 9 — British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain prepared today to approach the United States for a joint vote to the Japanese government, appealing for a halt to air bombings of Chinese civilian populations.

Distressed by the wholesale killings of Canton's civilians, Chamberlain would ask President Roosevelt to join in a common statement invoking the principles enunciated by Secretary of State Hull for the humanization of warfare.

British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay at Washington, it was learned, has been instructed to sound out Hull. At the same time British foreign office experts launched a study of the Hague convention as one possible basis of an Anglo-American approach to Japan.

H. R. Knickerbocker Writes:

Only Guns Can Stop Hitler

(Editor's Note: Solution of the Nazi-Czech dispute is "bound to be violent," H. R. Knickerbocker, ace International News Service staff correspondent, declares today in a cable dispatch from Prague. Negotiations between the Germans and Czechoslovakians, Knickerbocker states, are merely "eye-wash.")

PRAGUE, June 9—Europe faced the fact today that little Czechoslovakia's troubles with her giant neighbor, Germany, are chronically incurable, and that nothing but superior guns in the hands of the democracies will keep the peace this summer.

For today the Czechs and Germans showed there is no reasonable possibility of a peaceful understanding between them, and that the only solution of their quarrel is bound to be violent.

First the Czechoslovakian government announced it would continue to keep its army mobilized until an agreement had been reached with Chancellor Hitler and Konrad Henlein, Nazi leader of the Sudeten Germans.

MERELY EYE-WASH

Second, the Henlein party announced that it would not, in that case, negotiate for any agreement at all.

This is the sense of the latest phase of the quarrel which contains the most immediate material for the next great war. Neither side will admit publicly what each admits privately: that the so-called negotiations are merely eye-wash for the outside world, designed to convince public opinion abroad of their good will.

For Germany this is essential in order to be able finally to justify the direct action which Henlein declares will follow a breakdown of negotiations.

For the Czechs it is equally essential to prove they have done everything possible to prevent such a breakdown.

300,000 ARMED MEN

Thus, the Czechoslovakian formal announcement reads merely that the Chzechoslovakian government has introduced a three-year term of military service instead of the two-year term, and that reservists now serving with the colors will be kept until the end of June, when a new class will relieve them.

This means that Czechoslovakia intends to maintain an army of at least 300,000 fully mobilized on the German frontier until she is convinced there is no more danger of the sort that confronted her May 21.

That danger consisted, in her belief, in concentration on the Czech-German border of massed storm troopers and Hitler guards in civilian clothing, ready to cross the frontier at a given signal on the night of May 21 and join the Sudeten Germans in a defense against an alleged Czech massacre.

ARMY BALKED PLOT

According to this plan, the Reich Germans plus the Sudeten Germans would have swept behind the frontier defense and then, being met by the Czechoslovak army, would have called for help from Berlin. Thereupon the German army would have come into action.

There is not one Czech in 100,000 today who does not believe that only mobilization on May 20 saved this country from the fate of Austria. All believe also that this fate awaits them if the army is demobilized.

They realize full well that the decisive role would be played by France and England, and that they could not hold without them, but they know neither England nor France would help them if they were not prepared to help themselves. Therefore they will not demobilize.

THIRTY MILLION Suffer In Japs' Carnage

SHANGHAI, June 9 (AP) —War's fury today was causing a mass migration from three great cities, adding innumerable thousands to an estimated 30,000,000 refugees already homeless as a result of Japan's gigantic sweep across China's good earth.

Relentless bombings since May 28 at Canton had caused an estimated 500,000 to flee to the coast and the interior, packing all available conveyances.

Thousands more were fleeing south and west from Chengchow, junction point of the east-west Lunghai and north-south Peiping-Hankow Railways, which was under the immediate shadow of Japan's advancing army.

Still other thousands, chiefly women and children, were walking, riding and taking to boats from Hankow, provisional capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's central Chinese government, in the wake of the announced decision to move many government offices and convert China's "Chicago" into a military camp for defense to the last m n.

The Japanese army in six spearheads was arrayed in stepladder formation on a sweeping 350-mile front.

Japanese airplanes meanwhile ferried their cargoes of explosives and dropped them in the vicinity of Canton and neighboring railway stations today for the 13th consecutive day.

John, Anne Happy

They File To Wed

By MARJORIE McBRIDE

John Roosevelt and Anne Clark went to the Town Hall in Nahant today on an errand that, they made clear, they regarded as of sentimental importance, ranking next to that of their coming wedding itself.

This was the filing of their formal "Notice of Intention to Marry," which, in the rush of other things to do, they had put off until virtually the last minute.

Both were silent, declining to give any interview or make any statement. Greeted by Leon M. Delano, Nahant town clerk, they asked to be allowed to be alone together while they filled out the legal documents.

Delano opened the private room, usually reserved for meetings of the village selectmen.

When they came out, the "intentions" firmly in John's hand, all signed, sealed and ready for filing, both John and Anne were smiling.

"I'm very happy," said Delano.

Olympic Bombshell

Bingham Stirs Row

The surprise resignation of William J. "Bill" Bingham from the International Olympic Committee in protest against holding the 1940 games in Japan promised today to split the Committee and the A. A. U. wide open.

Bingham's resignation was forwarded Monday to Avery Brundage, head of the American committee and storm center in the Eleanor Holm Jarrett incident of 1936.

The Harvard athletic mentor did not reveal his action, however, until last night, his anouncement at an Honor Night banquet of 120 persons at the Y. M. C. A. coming as a bombshell.

Today Bingham told the Boston Evening American that he has not yet received an answer on the resignation, but the explosion is expected when the national committee meets in New York on June 26.

COMMITTEE "UNAFFECTED"

The Bingham resignation "will neither affect the plans of the committee nor prevent America's participation in the games at Tokyo," it was asserted today in New York by Dan Ferris, National A. A. U. secretary and also a member of the committee.

"Every man is entitled to his opinion," said Ferris, "and Bingham's resignation still leaves us with more than 50 members of the committee to carry on the work. I am not sure that we will even try to replace him.

"If conditions in Japan in 1940 are as they are today, we shall certainly participate in the Olympics."

Meanwhile, other local members of the main committee and of sub-committees told the Evening American they have no intention of resigning, but they admitted that trouble is expected as a result of Bingham's withdrawal, a move that leaves a big hole in the committee.

FACEY SILENT

J. Frank Facey of Cambridge, member of the committee with Bingham, declared he would not comment on the Bingham resignation.

"His resignation is his own business," said Facey. "I don't want to criticize him. I haven't resigned myself.

"There is a meeting of the national committee on June 26 and at that time there will be a discussion."

Gene Driscoll of Jamaica Plain, member of the Olympics sub-committee on boxing, said:

"I'm only a member of a sub-

'Lone Wolf' Bite Perils Girl Stylist's Career

A terrific battle she waged with a masked "lone wolf" burglar, who entered her Lime street, Beacon Hill, apartment, may end for all time the art career of pretty Nanina Comstock.

As Miss Nanina Comstock, pretty Beacon Hill dress designer, was slowly recovering in hospital from the effects of a "lone wolf" attack in her Lime street apartment, police today were questioning a South End youth in connection with the crime.

Doctors feared a severe bite and possible fracture of the fingers of one hand sustained in her battle with the boudoir bandit may ruin the career of Miss Comstock in her artistic profession.

The girl, a graduate of the Museum School of Fine Arts and Cooper Union in New York, was asleep when the intruder entered her room.

Jumping from bed in an attempt to escape, Miss Comstock was met by a vicious blow on the head with a rubber hose filled with sand.

Battling desperately against his embraces the girl scratched and kicked her assailant.

First to reach Miss Comstock's aid was Miss Laura Colby Barrett, occupant of an apartment overhead. She arrived in time to see the assailant escape through a window.

Cries of Nanina Comstock, Beacon Hill designer, as she battled "lone wolf" burglar in her Lime street apartment, early today, were heard by Miss Laura Colby Barrett (shown here), who dashed into the other's home just in time to see a swarthy youth fleeing. She later viewed suspect seized by police.

Mrs. Higgins Will Gives 10 Millions

Bulk of an estate which may amount to $10,000,000 was left to Mrs. William J. Kennedy of Southboro, by her mother's will, filed for probate in Dedham court today.

The mother, Mrs. Phoebe K. Higgins of Brookline, was the widow of Frederick J. Kennedy, founder of the Boston clothing firm which bears his name. She subsequently married Frank A. Higgins of Brookline.

Her will left Mr. Higgins their Brookline home, $12,000 and one-third of the residue.

The daughter was left two-thirds of the residue of her mother's estate, after deduction of a bequest of $25,000 to her husband, William J. Kennedy, and minor bequests to friends and former servants of Mrs. Higgins.

The will left Boston hospitals $700,000 in a bequest conditional on death of principal beneficiaries before probating of the will. Executors said today that bequest would doubtless be nullified.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kennedy, socially prominent in Boston and Southboro, have been active in horse shows and other sporting functions.

Mrs. Kennedy was heroine of front page news stories when her testimony sent to prison a gang of bandits who robbed her of jewels valued at more than $100,000.

Ford Named to U. S. Judgeship

The nomination of U. S. Atty. Francis J. W. Ford as federal district judge for Massachusetts was sent to the United States Senate today by President Roosevelt.

The newly-named judge was absent from his office in the federal building when news of his nomination reached Boston. He left for Poughkeepsie a few days ago to witness his daughter's graduation from Vassar and is not expected back until the end of the week.

'Abolish Family,' Next Goal of Reds

Linked to Drive Against All Religion in America

(This is the fifth of a series of articles revealing the Communists' plan to bring about strife between religious sects in the United States).

By JOHN BRADFORD MAIN
Boston Evening American Staff Writer

After the churches—the home!

The Red drive to "bore from within" the churches has as one of its objectives the overthrow of one of the Church's—and society's—fundamental sacraments: the sacrament of marriage.

This is revealed in the "Communist Manifesto" of Karl Marx and Freidrich Engels, quoted by the special commission that has been investigating Communism and other 'isms in Massachusetts.

The "Communist Manifesto" is the basic document of Communism, a document that stands in the same relation to Communism as, for example, the Declaration of Independence stands to true Americanism.

"Abolition of the family! Even the most radical flare up at this infamous proposal of the Communists," says the manifesto, sarcastically.

Then it proceeds to explain and defend this Communist proposal, as follows:

"On what foundation is the present family—the bourgeois family—based? On capital, on private gain. In its completely developed form, this 'family' exists only among the bourgeoise.

FREDICTS DOOM

"The bourgeois family will vanish as a matter of course when its complement vanishes, and both will vanish with the vanishing of capital . . ."

The manifesto refers to "the bourgeoise claptrap about the family and education, about the hallowed correlation of parent and child," as "disgusting."

It continues—

"But you Communists would introduce community of women, screams the whole bourgeoise in chorus.

"The bourgeois sees in his wife a mere instrument of production. He heard that the instruments of production are to be exploited in common, and, naturally, can come to no other conclusion than that the lot of being common to all will likewise fall to women . . .

"Bourgeois marriage is in reality a system of wives in common, and thus, at the most, what the Communists might possibly be reproached with is that they desire to introduce, in substitution for a hypocritically concealed, AN OPENLY LEGALIZED COMMUNITY OF WOMEN."

The churches—even the pagan temples of the ancient world—have always, from the earliest times, been the chief bulwark of the sanctity of marriage. In church doctrine, not only of the Christian religion but of ALL religions, marriage and morality have gone hand in hand.

COMMUNIST SCHEME

The Communists' scheme to "bore from within" the churches, therefore, is more, even, than a scheme to set religion against religion and stir up religious hatreds and strife where the Reds have failed to stir up a 'class war.'"

It is a scheme to filter into the churches seeds of immorality!

The Reds not only would despitrce the churches, but would pull down the home and all that home-life stands for!

Many honestly liberal groups among the churches, the report of the 'isms' commission makes clear, have been completely hoodwinked by the new Communist strategy of approach through "peace" and "anti-Fascism" movements.

These hoodwinked church groups deny indignantly any charge that they are "Communists," or that they are supporting Communistic principles.

THEIR EXCUSE

Thus, when they have nationally or internationally known Communist leaders as speakers, these groups — quite honestly — protest that they, as liberals, have the right to hear "both sides" of any question. This, they insist sincerely, is not "furthering Communism," but, merely, an exercise of the right of free speech.

Similarly, they are sincerely opposed to war, and honestly opposed to Fascism.

What they do not see, the report of the 'isms' commission makes plain, is that they are giving the Communists too much credit as being as honest and as pure in their motives as are they themselves.

The Communist "lecturer" is not a lecturer at all. He is a propagandist—a Red evangelist.

What the honest liberal groups do not see, says the report of the 'isms commission, is that the Communists who come into their churches merely lay aside their Red cloaks and don the uniform of "peace" and "anti-Fascism" IN ORDER TO GAIN ENTRANCE.

Many liberal groups are interested sincerely in peace and anti-fascism and social problems. The Red agent is interested only in ONE thing—Communism!

FOSTER'S VIEW

William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for President in 1932, the 'isms commission's report points out said at that time:

"We Communists are unscrupulous in our choice of weapons. We allow no consideration of legality, religion, patriotism, honor, duty, etc., to stand in our way to the adoption of effective weapons."

The report of the 'isms commission, referring to the "Communist Manifesto" of Marx and Engels with its suggestions for "an openly legalized community of women," says:

"We present excerpts from this document as representing fundamental tenets of Communism.

"The tenets remain constant, according to Lenin, and the strategy basic. BUT THE TACTICS BY WHICH FULFILLMENT OF THEIR POLICY SHALL BE ATTAINED VARY ACCORDING TO LOCAL CONDITIONS AND AS OPPORTUNITY PRESENTS ITSELF."

"hat is the whole secret of the present Communist scheme to "bore from within" the churches.

CHANGE TACTICS

Ten years ago, the Communists were OPENLY opposed to all religion. Today, this "fundamental tenet" remains unchanged: Communism STILL is opposed to ALL religion—but not openly.

"Opportunity presented itself" to "bore from within." "Local conditions" were such as to make that possible.

Honest churchmen, sincere liberals, have been taken in, hoodwinked, bamboozled by this new strategy. They have 'judged others by themselves" and have let the Communists in because they could not believe them any less honest than themselves.

The result has been a growing trend to the Left among liberal groups, growing dissension among the churches; sudden "inexplicable" outbursts of waves of anti-Semitism and other religious and racial prejudices.

All is grit that come to the Red mill!

RED LEADER—William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for President in 1932, said, according to the "ism" committee report: "We Communists are unscrupulous in our choice of weapons. We allow . . . nothing to stand in our way."

John and Anne File Intentions

accepting the papers.

"We're very happy, too," John said.

Anne, smiling, said nothing.

In his papers, John stated his age as 22, his address as Hyde Park, N. Y., his occupation that of "student."

Father's name?—"Franklin Delano Roosevelt" — no mention of the fact that he is President of the United States.

Under the questions as to previous marital state, if any, John wrote: "First marriage."

Anne gave her birthplace as Concord, age 21, occupation "at home."

WORE NAVY BLUE

She wore a navy blue dress with white figures and a swing skirt, a blue straw hat with a white bow tucked in the brim, blue slippers, a blue purse, white gloves.

John was wearing a gray sack suit and brown sport shoes.

Camera shy as they were today, John and Anne nevertheless will have not only news cameramen at their wedding but their own private photographer as well to take pictures of the President, John's father, kissing the bride, the cutting of the wedding cake, and John and Anne's first waltz together after the ceremony.

That's one of the "state secrets," John told the Boston Evening American in an informal chat.

BAN CANDID CAMERA

Until his wedding day, June 18, he's the guest at the Clark's new mansion in Nahant. He and Anne are spending the days doing last-minute shopping, hashing together and being entertained in a whirl of pre-nuptial affairs.

"Just before the ceremony, pictures of Anne in her wedding gown will be taken at her home," John confided. "A cameraman will also photograph her as she leaves for the church.

"We are hoping there won't be any candid camera fiends around. In fact, we are taking precautions against them. Following the wedding and en route to the Nahant Club reception, thereof'll be pictures again, and the usual 'shots' at the party will be taken."

Probers Told, 'Reds Pad Voting Lists'

voting list and copy off names by wholesale," testified Daniel F. Leahy, former chairman of the Cambridge board of election commissioners.

FORGE NAMES

"When these Communist workers would come to a big apartment house, they'd just forge the names of everybody living there.

"At the time of the last state election, there were 60,000 phony names on nomination petitions in Cambridge alone.

"There were 125,000 names purporting to be signatures on papers circulated by minority groups."

Witness Leahy appeared in support of proposed statutes, which would tighten election machinery, allegedly now misused by Communists and other subversive factions.

These statutes were being considered by the joint legislative committee on election laws today.

They came before the committee with the recommendation of the special legislative commission which has been probing radical and un-American influences within the Commonwealth.

Recent publication of the commission's 1500-page report shocked New England with its revelations of "boring from within" tactics of the Communists and kindred groups.

CROWD SWELLS

Today's hearing, attended by a special emissary of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, N. J., opened in one State House committee room, then moved to a larger one, as the crowd of spectators, prospective witnesses and interested factions swelled.

Even the second room, with a 400-person seating capacity, was soon jammed, with an overflow of spectators blocking the outside corridor.

Heckling from this outside group, at one time, temporarily halted Witness Leahy's testimony.

"Come in here and do the talking yourself, if you want to be heard," he shouted.

Urging that town and city clerks and election commissioners be given more power and greater facilities for scrutinizing lists of nomination and referendum signatures, Leahy pointed out that "1000 signatures can nominate a candidate for any office in the state."

Russians Heckle Stalin

LONDON, June 9 (INS)—The London Daily Express in a dispatch from Warsaw today said reports of the first public demonstration in Russia against Josef Stalin reached the Polish capital.

Two thousand members of the Russian Communist Party, according to the Warsaw reports, met in the people's theater at Kiev Monday to hear the names of 60 men and women chosen as new local government officials.

When the name, Kowalew, was called out, the dispatch reported, the man bearing the name arose and shouted:

"I will not accept this position. I will not be responsible to the people for Stalin's crimes. I prefer to sacrifice my life rather than my honor."

Some Communists in the theater cheered, while others shouted their disapproval, the Warsaw accounts relate, after which Soviet secret political police agents rushed in and arrested Kowalew and 60 others.

The dispatch said it was officially announced today that Kowalew committed suicide in the Kiev prison.

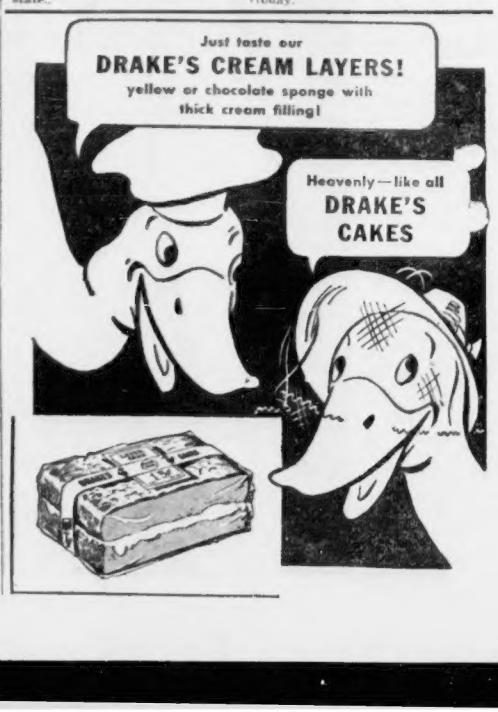
Sees Adjournment By Next Tuesday

WASHINGTON, June 9 (INS)—After a conference with President Roosevelt today, Senate Majority Leader Barkley said adjournment of Congress probably would not be possible before "Tuesday or Wednesday" of next week.

Barkley said he hoped, however, that the legislative machinery would speed up to permit adjournment by Saturday.

Al Smith's Foe, Marshall, Dies

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. J., June 9 (AP)—Charles Clinton Marshall, 78, who precipitated a memorable political debate on church and state when he challenged Alfred E. Smith's ambition, as a Roman Catholic, to the presidency, died today.



Death Strikes as Boy Attains Goal

Nazi Victim's Career Portrays Bitter Tragedy

By AUSTEN LAKE

Until the other day Mischa Damie was one of several office boys in the American local room. He was about the standard weight and height of a horse jockey and he spoke in a brittle diction with a Teuton burr to his R's.

With the other boys he sat on the call-bench near the city editor's desk and answered when staffmen chirped for "pica" of "clips" or needed odds and ends of service, such as copy paper and proofs.

But between times when work was slack he perched at some unoccupied typerwriter and wrestled with the obliques of English composition, inventing imaginary news yarns and practicing finger exercises on the keys.

He was like the other office boys - alert, obliging, quick with banter and eager to try his fledgling wings on elementary jobs of rewrite, phrasing headlines or running news errands.

Yet Mischa was different too.

For he had recently come from a German prison camp where the Nazis had herded Jews for trivial offenses, or no offenses at all.

Mischa's trespass had been working for a Berlin newspaper, and in Nazi eyes such lads held menace to the state.

So Mischa spent a year in a Nazi stockade working on rockpiles, doing chores beyond his strength and living on the meager prison fare of carrot broth and the heels of wooden loaves until, last winter, he was released and allowed to depart for Boston where an uncle lived.

But though in pre-Nazi life he had been an amateur bantam boxer, he was no longer robust. He liked to show photographs of himself in the scant garb of the ring, with gloved fists poised and a look of juvenile intensity on his face. It was a clean and idealistic face with level chin and clear eyes—the sort of face found in unspoiled youth the world around.

HELD NO BITTERNESS

Mischa was not bitter about Germany. Although he had been severely beaten by Nazi troopers, forced to stand in awkward positions for hours at a time and refused the common civilities that are human rights, he spoke with traces of wistfulness about his boyhood scenes and the parents he had left behind—soft guttural homilies in a tongue that sometimes tripped with emotion and caused his eyes to moisten.

He had spoken no English when he came here, but with the ambition of well-born youth he applied himself at night school and presently had a working knowledge, and grew more articulate each day. As an apprentice he didn't make much money here, but he was content. New life and American opportunity stretched ahead and the years were full of promise.

So, when reporters hailed him pranksbiy with "Hey, Hitler," and "Copy, Herr Goebles," Mischa came grinning and did the bidding in good cheer.

He knew that this was a haven without racial prejudice and he found companionship he had not known for years.

HAD HIS DREAMS

He was morbid. He had dreams in his young head. He would become successful and earn money. Then he would bring his parents here and piece together again the lost fragments of their happiness. And when he was older and eligible he would take out citizenship papers and become naturalized.

So when Mischa talked these things over with the older reporters they would rally him and say, "Mischa, some day you will own a paper and we'll come to you for jobs." Then Mischa would sound his laughing "Ho!" which was introduction to his every remark. "Ho!" Mischa would say. "Then you will be my copy boy."

It was simple fun. For the amusements of the city room are not what the movies make them and the men who write their daily columns are sympathetic beneath their callousness. They liked Mischa as a human sample and gave him news lessons in their leisure time.

TRAGEDY STALKS

There was one drawback. Mischa had a chronic case of stomach ulcers, contracted during his term in the Nazi prison camp. The nauseating penal foods of Nazidom and the lack of medical attention had ruined his innards. So, sometimes, he would hunch over his knees on the copy-bench and sit with the muscles of his jaws clenched and his face white with suffering.

But he did not complain and the reporters, with pres deadlines to meet, did not think to inquire.

Now, of course, it is too late. Because Mischa was removed suddenly to the Beth Israel hospital Sunday morning.

He won't need to become successful and earn money to bring his parents to Boston. He won't become an American citizen or own any newspapers.

For Mischa Damie died yesterday on the operating table. The Nazis are not interested.

When Mischa was stricken, a call for blood donors came from the hospital. The Evening American staff immediately volunteered. Four were accepted as having the right blood types—Frank McLean, police reporter; Robert McCormack, photographer; Samuel Brogna, staff aide, and Joseph Carter, staff reporter.

McLean, McCormack and Brogna each gave a pint of blood, and Mischa rallied for a day and a half. Carter was waiting when death came. Mischa was too weak to stand another transfusion.

Roosevelt Off For West July 7

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt—if conditions permitted—would leave on a Western trip July 7 and speak in Covington, Ky., July 8.

No details were announced. It was expected, however, that the President would speak from his train at the stop in Kentucky, where Senate Leader Barkley is being opposed for renomination in the Democratic primary by Governor A. B. Chandler.

The President first will keep a long planned engagement the morning of July 8 at Marietta, O., where he will speak in connection with the 150th anniversary of the Northwest Territory.

'30' Comes First--- Byline He'll Never See

Newspaper office boys have virtually a universal ambition—to obtain a "byline" as a distinguished reporter whose name is signed to his story. Mischa Damie was no exception. But the realization of his ambition involves a tragedy, for soon after he wrote "30" on his first "byline" story—that symbol which to every newspaperman means "end of the story"—death intervened to write an untimely "30" on Mischa's brief career. Here is the story which he wrote, but never can see in print:

By MISCHA DAMIE

I first met Max Schmeling in the sport hospital, "Hohenlychen," near Berlin, where we both were confined as a result of boxing injuries. It was my happy lot to have the former world's champion as a roommate, and a finer, friendlier and more interesting person has yet to be met.

Since boxing was our mutual love, the channels for conversation stood wide open, and we spent many hours discussing sports, politics and the world at large.

During these friendly chats, he expressed to me his great desire to regain the world's heavyweight title from Joe Louis, not for reasons of personal aggrandizement, but to vindicate the inspiring faith and admiration which the people of Germany have for him. Such unbounded acclaim cannot be without basis, and, believe me, Max Schmeling is a man who measures up well to the standards expected of him.

Today he is 32 years old and one of the most intelligent performers in the history of international boxing. To my mind he is a Teutonic Gene Tunney—representing a most unusual combination of intellectualism, athletic prowess and fineness of character.

He is an ardent lover of nature. In most generous fashion he subscribes to charities, and anonymously maintains a summer camp for underprivileged boys.

Max Schmeling represents the ideal German which we like to think still exists in this day of hysterical "isms." Being a man of great mental calibre and discernment, we do not find him swept along in the mad rush of present day German thought.

When he fights Joe Louis in youth and in strength we find Louis with the advantage, but in lion-heartedness and incentive to win, Max Schmeling has a most powerful ally.

I only wish that the American public could know the man Schmeling as he really is. Win or lose, I know the German people will always idolize him and he will go down in posterity as the nobleman of the German prize ring.

JustWed, Bride, Hall Must Part

HOLLYWOOD, June 9 (INS)—Separation looms for Honeymooners Frances Langford and Jon Hall, who stole a march on Hollywood by eloping to Prescott, Ariz., last week.

Filmland's latest bride has to leave on a personal appearance tour on June 24. She is scheduled to be away from Hollywood for several months.

If Sam Goldwyn's permission can be obtained, Hall may be able to accompany her, but "Beach Boy" is supposed to go into production next month. This is the picture which is supposed to make Hall a star.

Hollywood learned another amusing thing today about the couple's Prescott elopement.

In their rush they forgot about needing a wedding ring.

Fight Wage Bill Compromise

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A group of southern senators served an ultimatum on wage-hour conferees today that they would not accept such legislation without pay differentials.

Seventeen senators caucusing early today decided to fight a compromise approved by a joint congressional committee yesterday.

The compromise would provide a minimum pay scale of 40 cents an hour for interstate industry in seven years, except where it would cause unemployment.

The decision of the southerners carried a broad hint of a Senate filibuster if conferees decline to revoke their action and lift the time limit from the pay legislation.

Senator Ellender (D.) of Louisiana, one of the conferees, said:

"If they (the conferees) don't accept our plan there is going to be a lot of talking on the bill. I guarantee that."

MINIMUM FOR ALL

Senator Pepper (D.) of Florida, the other southern senator, on the conference committee, said he would propose to the conferees that a minimum wage scale of 25 cents an hour be made effective for all interstate industry.

His proposal, also, would establish industry boards empowered to fix the minimum wage to be paid in each industry. These boards would be charged with increasing this minimum to 40 cents an hour as soon as "economically feasible."

Under Pepper's proposal, the industry boards would have power to make a differential in wages within an industry. Larger units within the industry probably would be ordered to pay a higher minimum than the smaller ones, Pepper said.

44-HOUR MAXIMUM

The hour question would be approached in the same manner, Pepper said. He suggested fixing 44 hours as a general maximum, but at the same time giving industry boards power to increase this to 48 hours if necessary.

Southern Senators who attended the meeting—all Democrats— were: Ellender, Pepper, Caraway and Miller of Arkansas, Harrison and Bilbo of Mississippi, Bankhead and Hill of Alabama, Andrews of Florida, Overton of Louisiana, George and Russell of Georgia, Smith and Byrnes of South Carolina, Berry of Tennessee, Lee of Oklahoma and Connally of Texas.

Lodge Hailed On Old-Age Benefit Fight

WASHINGTON, June 9 — Encouraged by new support, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts today planned to press for immediate action on his bill to increase by one-third the old-age benefits paid under Social Security.

As more and more of his colleagues came to his support, it appeared certain that Republicans intend to make an issue of the proposal at this present session.

A stern battle also is forecast over the "gag-rule" imposed on Lodge when he sought to attach old-age proposal to the relief bill.

This assurance was given by Senator McNary of Oregon, minority republican leader, who praised highly Lodge's fight.

"The Senator from Massachusetts is to be congratulated on the gallant fight he has made for an increase in the pensions of those who have reached advanced age," McNary declared.

"I do not recall in many years an attempt on the part of any Senator, by voice or by vote, to add to the niggardly benefits which are now offered those who have reached an advanced age.

"I hope the Senator will carry on his fight, and I regret exceedingly that the continuity of his remarks last week was destroyed by the very unusual motion to lay the amendment on the table. I believe, had he been able to explain it as he did today, there would have been less opposition to it" The Lodge move was tabled, 39 to 36, last week.

Deal Enters 2 More Primaries

WASHINGTON, June 9 (INS)—Postmaster General James A. Farley carried an olive branch to Capitol Hill today only to reveal the Democratic high command has decided to intervene against conservative Democrats in the senatorial primaries in Maryland and Georgia.

This means the New Deal's "inner circle" of presidential advisers will fight the renomination of Senator Millard J. Tydings and Senator Walter F. George, who opposed the President's Supreme Court bill.

Farley also disclosed to Capitol Democrats the "inner circle" may also intervene against Senator Champ Clark in Missouri and Senator Augustine Lonergan in Connecticut. Both opposed the court bill.

Favor Committee On Redistricting

In spite of demand by Governor Hurley for immediate rearrangement of the congressional, senatorial and representative districts, the House today was expected to adopt an order of the rules committee for appointment of a redistricting committee to report to the 1939 Legislature.

The rules committee plan provides for a committee of eight senators and 24 representatives to draw their recommendations during the recess.

Relief-Vote Probe Assured

(Copyright, 1938)

WASHINGTON, June 9 (INS)—A special Senate investigation into charges that government relief funds are being used to influence votes in elections appeared certain today after a poll of the Senate showed a majority favored the move.

This development, along with delayed action on the major measures and a program of work on clerical help, prompted House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn to confirm plans to defer adjournment until June 15. Rayburn said:

To smooth the way for speedy conference agreement on the $3,722,000,000 recovery bill, President Roosevelt sent a supplemental estimate of $175,000,000 to Congress for WPA relief to cover the increase made by the Senate from the original estimate of $1,250,000,000 to $1,425,000,000.

Backed by more than 25 Democrats and 12 Republicans, Senator Tydings (D) of Maryland, appeared confident his resolution calling for a special Senate committee of three to investigate alleged use of relief funds for vote getting, would be approved.

Loses Estate If She Reweds

If Mrs. Grace E. Holihan, widow of Joseph P. Holihan of Methuen, wealthy brewer, marries again, she will be barred from inheriting his property.

This provision was made in Holihan's will, filed in Salem court. In the event of Mrs. Holihan's death or remarriage the estate will go outright to the children of Holihan's deceased brothers.

Canada Liberals Swept to Power

REGINA, Saskatchewan, June 9 (Canadian Press)—Hopes of the Social Credit Party were dashed as the liberal provincial government of Premier W. J. Patterson was swept back into power today in elections for the 52 seats in the Saskatchewan legislature.

It will be the second successive legislature without Conservative representation. The Liberals held 50 of the last assembly's 55 seats.

Stop Thinning Hair

to Avoid Baldness

BALDNESS warns you when it is approaching. Your scalp is laden with dandruff, it itches, and your hair becomes thin and scraggly at the temples, crown and frontal point. Disregard these warnings and you'll soon be bald. Heed them and consult a Thomas expert if you want to avoid baldness.

More than a quarter-million other men who noticed their hair becoming thin consulted Thomas. They saved their hair—ended dandruff, stopped abnormal hairfall and actually re-grew hair on the thin and bald spots.

You, too, can have a good head of hair. Call today for a free scalp examination. The Thomas expert will tell you frankly what can be done in your particular case. If benefits are improbable—you will be told. No charge is ever made for consultation or complete scalp examination in a Thomas office.

Girl College Grad Plans Farm Life

GIRL GRAD SHOWS HOW—Pretty Margaret Neilson, graduate of Massachusetts State College and daughter of Smith College president, is looking for a job—of work. And to show the farm's her ambition, she shears a sheep while mere males look on admiringly.

AMHERST, June 9—Don't be fooled by that ribbon-festooned diploma of hers.

When she says she's looking for a job, she means a job, not a position.

And her idea of a "perfectly lovely" job is one where you go to work at 4:30 a. m. and quit when it's too dark to tell a Guernsey heifer from a Jersey yearling.

You've guessed it, now. She wants to be a farm girl.

But don't get Margaret "Peggy" Neilson wrong. There's nothing starry-eyed about her agricultural aspirations, even if she is a college president's daughter, a former Smith honor student and a graduate of Massachusetts State College at Amherst.

Farming, to Peggy Neilson, means feeding pigs, milking cows, pitching hay, churning butter, hoeing beans and keeping caught up on odd chores around the house and barn.

She explained all that to her dad, President William A. Neilson of Smith College, when she quit Smith, after her sophomore year, to transfer to Stockbridge School of Animal Husbandry, a State College affiliate.

You don't perspire, you sweat, in the kind of farming Peggy Neilson plans to do.

She proved that, toiling from before dawn to after dark on model farms in England, during her summer "vacations."

So now she has that diploma you heard about. But she's prouder of her biceps than of her theories.

"I'm going on a walking tour of England this summer," she said today. "That'll help me get some of the book learning out of my pores.

"Then when I come back to New England in the fall I'll start looking for a job. A job on a farm. Farming is going to be my work. No, I didn't say profession, though if you went at it right it would amount to that.

"I said work. And I'll love it."

Kelly for Governor Club Organized

Five hundred members of Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly's Boston campaign committee will meet in Hotel Brunswick tomorrow evening to organize formally the "Kelly for Governor Club" of this city.

Joseph Maguire of Dorchester, who has long been prominent in Democratic affairs, will preside at the meeting. The reception committee is headed by Joseph Pagliaruio of East Boston.

During the evening arrangements will be made for the reception to be tendered Kelly in Symphony Hall Sunday, June 26.

Takes Mystery Trip In New Breen Clue

After a lengthy conference with District Attorney William J. Foley on evidence to be presented the grand jury in the case of the killing of David J. "Beano" Breen next month, Captain Thomas Connolly of the Warren avenue police station today left for an unannounced destination.

At present, James Wrianzky, manager of the Metropolitan Hotel in which Breen was shot to death, is being held without bail in Charles Street Jail, charged with the crime.

Asylum Death Spurs Probe

Reorganization of the State Department of Mental Diseases was recommended today by the legislative ways and means committee as investigation of another death at Medfield State Hospital was disclosed to the Boston Evening American.

The reorganization proposal, first suggested by a special commission, would place the department "under the exclusive supervision and control" of the mental diseases commissioner, the four unpaid associate commissioners to be dropped.

LOSE POWER

Trustees of the 16 mental hospitals would be placed solely on an advisory basis and would lose their administrative powers.

Meanwhile the Evening American was told of charge that a Lynn patient died on the operating table at Medfield State Hospital after 13 hours of unattended agony.

It was learned at the same time that at least one of the doctors finally called was "approached" to make his report of the case favorable to the hospital.

The victim, Samuel Freeman Porter, described as elderly but whose exact age was not determined, died on the morning of May 21.

He had been stricken ill the night before and complained to two attendants about severe pains in his stomach. Neither attendant reported to physicians, but attempted to comfort the patient themselves, it was learned.

ORDERS OPERATION

Dr. John Slattery, staff physician at the hospital, was the first medical man to learn of the patient's condition—and then only through his routine morning checkup.

He ordered Dr. Erel L. Guidone, another staff physician, to take charge of the case with an immediate operation in mind. Dr Guidone summoned an outside physician from Framingham and the operation was ordered.

The Framingham doctor has reported that the patient was not a good risk for an operation when he entered the case but ruled that there was no choice.

It was learned that he was incensed at the apparent neglect of the patient prior to the operation and blamed that for his first loss of a patient in more than 700 operations.

BUCKLEY IN PROBE

Questionad concerning the death today, State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley asserted that he had such a case under a section of his investigation at the hospital. He declined to discuss it, however, on the grounds that his report was not yet complete.

'Loud Voices' Cause Stir in Revere Probe

Raised voices, sounding from the Revere probe grand jury room, today caused excitement in Pemberton square courthouse shortly before the investigation was adjourned until tomorrow.

Lieutenant Henry Tracey of the Revere police was in the grand jury room for the second time when the high, fast-talking voices were heard.

He had been today before the "blue ribbon" grand jury for only 10 minutes when he and Assistant Attorney General Maurice Goldman emerged and Goldman requested State Troper Ray Foley to "get the Vigilantes' cards."

Then Special Officer William C. Gibson, another member of the vice squad, was called before the extraordinary grand jury, which is probing Revere rackets and racketeers.

Gibson remained before the grand jury nearly two hours, and when he emerged Tracey was recalled. Fifteen minutes later, it was announced that an adjournment had been taken until tomorrow because of illness of the jury foreman's wife.

Asked if progress was being made in the investigation, Assistant Attorney-General John S. Derham replied:

"Yes, we are making progress."

He said that tomorrow both Tracey and Gibson will be recalled, and that Police Chief Edward J. Tighe might also be a witness.

It was learned today a surprise witness, a representative of a national news gathering agency declared to have hired David J. (Beano) Breen, slain racketeer, as bodyguard, was at the courthouse yesterday and was told to return Monday and to bring books and records with him.

Not Lost---But Strayed

"We just went for a walk and kept going," Cynthia Ahlquist, 9, of Saugus told police when she and a girl companion, Patricia MacDonagal, 10, were found after their parents had put in a call saying they were unexplainably absent. Cynthia here is back home—with tired feet.

Vote Roosevelt Monopoly Fund

WASHINGTON, June 9 (INS)—New Dealers scored a victory in the Senate today when that body voted 40 to 28 to give President Roosevelt control over $400,000 for investigation of monopolistic trends in industry and finance by government agencies of his choice.

This provision was written into the O'Mahoney resolution to create a joint committee of members of Congress and of executive agencies to make a broad inquiry into monopolies, with a view to recommending legislation to the next session of Congress.

Allotted directly for committee expenses was $100,000, making a total of $500,000 authorized for the investigation.

Thanks for Memories Sing Grads of Venus

MARLBORO, June 9 — Venus and Apollo, those earliest (civilized) exponents of nudism, stood nearly clotheless in the hall of Marlboro High school today while various city factions discussed pro and con the propriety of their scant attire.

The battle raged over the action of the school committee in voting to "remove and dispose" of the statues because they might have an unsatisfactory effect upon the morals of the school's youth.

Miss Edna Granitsas, lone woman committee member, said the statues, in the assembly hall, used by children from three years old up, do not belong there and should be in the high school art room.

Russell Frye, another committee member, asserted today that they belong only in a museum, "where are should be placed."

Alumni who can remember "Venie" and "Pol" as school institutions and the Tuesday Club, organization of prominent women which raised enough money to put them where they are 50 years ago, were angry today at the school committee's action.

"All of us have grown old," remarked one alumnus, "but those darned statues remain just the same. It makes us feel sort of good to look at them—they never got sloppy or fat or wrinkled."

Tuesday Club members were planning a meeting to decide what might be done with their proteges to preserve their arty future.

"I would be glad to accept the statues for my Sunday School," declared the Rev. Elisha Hooper, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lucy Fitzgerald, president of the Parent-Teachers' Association, which suggested the statues' banishment, said "mothers believed the statues too mature for school children. Statues reflecting American history would be more in keeping."

Meanwhile, the Rev. Carl Heath Kopf, pastor of Mt. Vernon Congregational Church in Boston, offered to take the famed works of art off the hands of the school authorities.

Brookline Girl Sails on Mercy Dash to Father

When the transatlantic liner California sails from East Boston today it embarks upon a 3000-mile mercy death, carrying a Brookline girl to her father, seriously sick in Ireland.

Yesterday Miss Ellen Kennedy of Brookline received a wire that her father was critically ill and was asking for her. Through the sympathetic help of steamship immigration officials and the Irish consulate office, the grief-stricken girl was provided with the necessary papers.

The Anchor liner California is embarking more than 300 New England tourists here and sails for Cobh, Dublin and Glasgow.

Among those sailing is Miss Kathryn Lawrence of Somerville, Boston girl reporter, formerly connected with the Boston Daily Record and the Boston Sunday Advertiser. Miss Lawrence is making a tour of the British Isles.

Embarking for a honeymoon tour of Great Britain and the continent were Atty. and Mrs. Louis Goldkrand who were married last night in Brookline. The bride is the former Miss Helen Golden of Fall River.

Others sailing were Mrs. Annie Gray of the Back Bay, Miss Mary Downey of Dorchester, Miss Margaret Campbell of Atlantic, Miss Sigurlang V. Jonsvotten of Cambridge, Professor W. F. Furrey of Harvard and Mrs. Furry, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paker of Maynard and Miss Barbara L. Littlejohn of Clinton.

23 Graduate From Farm, Trade School

A class of 23 boys, largest graduating group in the past decade at the Farm and Trades school on Thompson's Island in Boston Harbor, received certificates of proficiency today from the hands of William M. Meacham, headmaster.

The invocation at the island exercises was delivered by Rev. William P. Green, pastor of Phillips Congregational Church, South Boston. Robert Cutler, prominent Boston lawyer, orator of the day, was introduced by Arthur Adams, president of the school board.

Each graduate read an essay prepared by himself for the occasion and the themes covered such a diversified list as naval aviation, printing, music, law, astronomy, agriculture and railroading.

The graduating exercises marked the 40th anniversary of the foundation of the school on Thompson's Island and the 12th year in office for Headmaster Meacham.

State College

Massachusetts State College at Amherst today launched a four-day program preparatory to baccalaureate ceremonies on Sunday, and Providence College in Providence, R. I., conferred degrees on 132 seniors and 15 members of its extension school, the largest number of graduates in its history.

Providence

Hugh S. Taylor, head of the chemistry department of Princeton University, recipient of an honorary degree from Providence College, told the graduates that "the democracies of the world must hold tenaciously to the definition of elemental liberties" in this modern civilization.

Newton High

Graduating exercises for pupils of Newton high school will be held on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Dickinson Stadium on the school grounds.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs will present diplomas to 713 members of the senior class, largest in the history of the institution and the address to graduates will be delivered by Rev. Dr. James Gordon Gilkey, professor of Biblical Literature at Amherst.

The exercises will be featured by the award of 39 scholarships to boys and girls, established by Mrs. Eugenia Brown in memory of her son Stafford, class of 1915, who was killed in the World War.

Exam for Forester Scholarship Opens

Examinations for the Major John J. Leonard four-year scholarship at Holy Cross of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters will be held in Worcester tomorrow and Saturday.

Dies on His Grad Day

Death cast a gloomy shadow over otherwise gay and colorful high school graduation exercises today in Malden as Wesley Horace Murphy, 19, member of the senior class, succumbed to heart disease at the Malden Hospital.

The stricken student, confined to bed for three months, had expected to be able to attend the graduation ceremony, but his hopes were dashed by a sudden fatal attack just after dawn this morning.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy, 11 Wodville terrace, Malden. He is survived by his parents and by a brother and three sisters.

News Briefs

NEW YORK, June 9 (INS)—Otto Berndt, 40, Wall street broker, shot and killed himself today in his Fifth avenue apartment with a hunting rifle.

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—The Communist party, according to Earl Browder, its general secretary, will support American Labor party in New York State elections this year.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9 (AP)—Marching pickets and bewildered, stair-climbing guests today marked a strike which drew 1250 hotel employes from their work in eight of the city's largest hotels at the opening of Portland's annual rose festival. The employes demand union recognition.

SEATTLE, June 9 (AP)—Forty-five Seattle bakeries, producing 95 per cent of the city's bread, were closed today by a strike.

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP) — Garbed in black, Mrs. Marie Griebl, wife of the fugitive Dr. Ignatz T. Griebl, who fled to Germany while under subpoena to testify in the government's investigation of a major spy plot in this country, was called before the special federal grand jury today.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (AP)—A turtle, with a strike picket's sign pasted to its shiny shell, plodded alone on a mid-town sidewalk today. Its attention-attracting wanderings lasted only until police noticed it, however.

LEWISVILLE, Ark., June 9 (AP)—Three radio-equipped national guard planes joined today in a hunt for a gang of outlaws credited with bank robberies at Bradley, Ark., and Minden, La., during the past two days.

Won $1000 at Races, Then Disappeared

He left the race track last Saturday with $1000 in winnings, telephoned his wife to pack a bag for a fifth anniversary wedding trip, parked his car at North Station—and hasn't been seen since.

Today Mrs. Alfred H. Parker, 21, finally notified police her husband has been missing five days from their home on Pearl street, Cambridge.

Teachers College Closing Asked By Tobin

Accompanying his approval of the school department budget of $16,700,000 for 1938, Mayor Tobin today sent a recommendation to the Boston school committee for gradual reduction of students and personnel at Teachers' College in the Fenway so that by 1941 it can be closed permanently.

In his letter to the committee, the mayor declared he believed that the school population of Boston is declining and will continue to decline for some time.

The mayor said closing the college would save the city $225,000 annually. He recommended that its staff be transferred to duties at present rates of pay in other branches of the school system. He also suggested that the student body of the Girls' High School on West Newton street be transferred to the Fenway building.

Surprising Facts Concerning Ideas First Used by Pirates That Now Make Life Easy for the Modern Housewife

LIKE most things in the horse-and-buggy days, there was sound "horse sense" in having the roomy kitchen Grandma used when she was raising her family. Her daily tasks were an all-day marathon in contrast to the daily duties of a housewife running a home these days. And though science gets credit for the up-to-the-minute efficient kitchen, a large part is due to seafaring men, for reasons explained in The American Weekly.

A LOOK AND A RIDE AND YOU'LL AGREE...

HERE'S THE CAR OF THE YEAR!

Big, roomy, strikingly styled . . . today's brilliant De Luxe Ford V-8 brings still more of the "fine-car things" to buyers in the low-price field!

DE LUXE TUDOR SEDAN . . . 112-inch wheelbase 123-inch springbase 85 h.p. . . . Diagonal folding of front seat back gives easy access to rear . . . Luggage compartment reached from outside . . . Mohair or broadcloth upholstery

YOU can tell at a glance that there's a different Ford V-8 this year. In beauty, no other car at any price is like it. But it's not until you ride in it that you know how different it is!

No low-priced car has ever been built to all-round standards as high as this one's.

The quiet, flexible "feel" of its engine is a typical V-8 advantage. A feel that only 8 cylinders can give.

Its interior is spacious. Partly because the body itself is big. Partly because its short V-8 engine and long springbase add to the passengers' share of total length.

In its rear seat the promise of a "front-seat ride" comes true. You sit well forward of the rear axle . . . Center-Poised where riding comfort is naturally at its best.

At the rear of every model is luggage space that's big . . . and opens from outside the car.

And with all its size, the car is fun to drive. Steering, shifting gears, braking . . . are next to effortless. Ford brakes act easily, stop smoothly . . . and have the safety advantage of steel from pedal to wheel.

Before you spend as much for any car . . . and certainly before you pay more . . . learn for yourself how sharply this De Luxe Ford car steps up the quality standards of low-cost motoring.

Kidnaped Boy Found Slain

Seized Youth Leads G-Men to Child's Body

Later, the sheriff said:

"I undoubtedly the murder was prompted by the fact the child had recognized his abductor."

A short time later Circuit Judge Arthur Gomez, at the request of States Attorney George A. Worley, issued an order for a special grand jury to be called on Monday to investigate the boy's murder.

NO FEDERAL CRIME

Hoover previously had announced he would turn over all evidence to Worley, since he believed it was a case for prosecution in the state courts.

The chief operative was not to testify before a state grand jury in the abduction and murder of the son of Col. Lindbergh, famed aviator.

McCall is a truck driver, son of a Nazarene church minister, and a former tenant of the Cash apartment house in Princeton, 25 miles south of here, where the kidnaping took place. He is married but childless.

He has been held by the G-men since June 2 — a prisoner at Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters here.

Bulletin

PRINCETON, Fla., June 8 (INS)—Masking their actions in secrecy, G-men today picked up an unidentified man near the home of Asbury Cash, uncle of kidnaped Jimmy Cash, Jr., whose body was found today, and rushed him to Miami under guard.

Efforts to identify the man were fruitless, and authorities refused to say whether the arrest was in connection with the kidnaping case, in which Franklin Pierce McCall has confessed authorship of the ransom notes and collection of the $10,000 ransom.

a week to get killed shortly after it got [illegible] Cash, Sr. [illegible] over the $10,000 extra last Tuesday in a vain attempt to obtain the safe return of his child alive.

Dr. Thomas Otto reported the body was in such a state that it would be impossible to determine the cause of death.

SKULL NOT FRACTURED

The physician said the skull had not been fractured and there were no signs of violence as far as could be observed. The body was taken to an undertaker's at Homestead, south of Princeton.

Summoning newsmen to his office upon their return, Hoover made an informal statement [illegible] Hoover said: "We have been able to recover the body of the little Cash boy at 12:03 a. m. and recovery of the ransom in the corner of an orchard owned by Charles Chambers on the south side of the Sunset drive between the Dixie highway and Tallahassee road.

"The child's body is to be removed to Miami for appropriate examination and autopsy. It was found west of Princeton and south of Coconut Palm road, about half a mile from Princeton on Coconut Palm road and in almost impenetrable underbrush back of a palmetto thicket.

NOTE FOUND

"The child was kidnaped at 10 p. m., May 28, and the first ransom note was found shortly after 10 p. m. at the home of an uncle, Asbury Cash. This note gave the location of a second note, which was found at the cabin of a Negro, John Manuel, who had nothing to do with the kidnaping and is in no way connected with it.

"This note made a demand for $10,000 to be paid at midnight May 30, and in that note the route was set to be followed by Cash, down Tallahassee road to Moody road, to Allapattah road, to Mowry road, to Dixie highway and back to Princeton, a route that would take 40 minutes to hour.

"The route was followed and nothing happened and a third note was found at Wilson Cash's filling station at midnight, May 30, directing Cash to go over the same route at 4 a. m. May 31.

"Contact was made by Cash as he drove south on Tallahassee road at 4 a. m. and the money, contained in a shoe box, was placed at the corner of Sunset drive and Tallahassee road by a telegraph pole.

"The signal to pay was given by a flash of a flashlight in a fruit grove.

"We have in custody Franklin Pierce McCall, 21, of Princeton, Fla. He has made a full and complete statement, admitting writing all of the notes and obtaining the ransom money, which was recovered in full about 4 a. m. Wednesday. We also found the box, torn to pieces, in which the money was paid. It had been placed under a stone in a palmetto clump, 250 feet north of Sunset drive, directly in front of the home of Joseph Hilliard where McCall had placed it. Hilliard lives on the south side of Sunset drive.

"McCall admits writing all the ransom notes and giving the signal for the payoff and taking the money and hiding it in the box.

We were accompanied by Dr. Thomas Otto, a Miami physician, and we found that decomposition had set in quite badly.

"In due time, I will confer with George A. Worley, state's attorney, regarding further procedure, as we believe it is a case for local or state prosecution."

Hoover Recounts Finding of Body

MIAMI, Fla., June 8 (INS)—Following is the oral statement of J. Edgar Hoover, announcing the discovery of kidnaped Jimmy Cash and the arrest of Franklin Pierce McCall:

"We have been able to recover the body of the little Cash boy at 12:03 a. m. and recovery of the ransom in the corner of an orchard owned by Charles Chambers on the south side of the Sunset drive between the Dixie highway and Tallahassee road.

Ransom Note Led McCall Into Trap

MIAMI, Fla., June 8 (AP)—Suspicion fell first upon Franklin Pierce McCall in connection with the kidnaping of little Jimmy Cash when he "found" the third ransom note, Sheriff D. C. Coleman revealed.

The sheriff said McCall took the note to the father with the tale that he had picked it up from the floor where it apparently had been thrust beneath the door.

The note was crumpled into a ball, the sheriff added, and this circumstance caused him to doubt McCall's story.

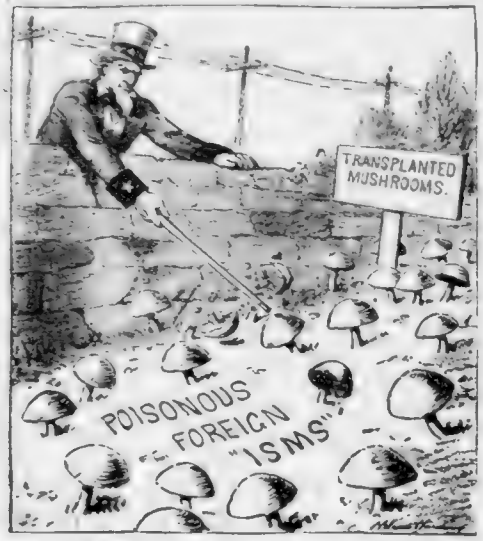
The Common Enemy



The Editor Says: Communism is the foe of every form of religion in the world because it is the enemy of LIBERTY.

It is, therefore, proper that every American should read the following statement made by Judge Abraham Cohen, of Boston, after the triennial convention of the largest and oldest Jewish fraternal organization in the world, the B'Nai Brith, had adopted his resolution, in Toronto, pledging itself to fight Communism:

"Communism has fought unremittingly against the religious faith of the Jews. A Communist who was a Jew is now an APOSTATE. If Communism were to rule, it would destroy BOTH Judaism and Christianity.

"Above all, I make this appeal to Jew and non-Jew of North America that our American ideal must be maintained unsullied by any perversions. Communism, Fascism and Nasism are the mortal enemies of democracy. Anti-Semitism has been the tool and the entering wedge in the destruction of the modern European republics. Anti-semitism and democracy are incompatible.

"The traditions of America will not permit these superstitions to foul its altar.

"The pioneers of this land, the Pilgrims, the Puritans, the Huguenots, the Catholics and the Jews driven from home by intolerance and persecution, builded on these shores with liberty and freedom a CATHEDRAL OF HUMANITY.

"America is the holy ground of liberty and freedom. May no one defile by sacrilege this the Cathedral of Humanity."

These are brave, rousing, true words. AMERICAN WORDS. Religious liberties, civil liberties and the freedom of the printed and spoken word are inextricably bound together in America. Their enemies—OUR ENEMIES—are Communism, Fascism and Nasism, as Judge Cohen truly says.

JOHN L. LEWIS frowns, William Green smiles, and the country no longer seems to be asking: "Which of the two big labor chiefs is the better politician?"

Basing its opinion on results of recent primary elections in two states, the country is entertaining a rather strong suspicion that the A. F. of L. president is the man with the greater political acumen.

In Pennsylvania Mr. Lewis put his CIO solidly behind Thomas Kennedy, for Governor, and Mayor Wilson of Philadelphia for [illegible]. It was wasted effort. Both lost.

Mr. Green and the A. F. of L. were on the other side of the fence. They supported Charles A. Vin Jones for Governor and [illegible] for promotion to the Senate. They were [illegible] were nominated.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, June 9.

[illegible] is [illegible] but [illegible] it is understood [illegible] Washington is expecting [illegible] moves by President Roosevelt as soon as Congress is out of the way.

These White House operations are to be executive rather than the customary policies which have become such a familiar part of the Washington news report.

Hint of what is afoot is said to have come from one of the inner White House circle, to a New Deal Senator.

It is one of the traditional peculiarities of the well-known grapevine, that these things do get about.

Many Capitol Hill speculators, upon the advance tips, have concluded that Mr. Roosevelt is about to do something with the gold board, nestling in its million-dollar hole in the ground out in Kentucky.

Another suspicion which has been whispered about in Senate cloakrooms leads to the belief that the President at long last will avail himself of the Thomas Amendment to the old A. A. A. law, the part which the Supreme Court did not throw into the ash can of forgotten things.

This amendment authorizes the President to issue $3,000,000,000 of printing press money.

IN SHORT there are many around the halls of Congress who see in inflation a managed inflation—about the only move to beat the depression which the harrassed New Dealers have up their sleeves.

It is not supposed that Senator Logan of Kentucky was speaking by the card the other day, when in a Senate speech he threw out the hint that it would be possible for Mr. Roosevelt to take our 12 billion-dollar board—it is nearer 13 than 12—and on a basis of 50 per cent coverage [illegible] $6,000,000,000 in new gold-backed money.

New Deal Senators who now are near the end of their rope, figuratively licked their lips as the Kentucky Senator figured out that with $25,000,000,000 of this money the whole New Deal debt incurred by the present administration could be wiped [illegible].

There isn't any sound basis for believing that the President is going to take this spectacular rabbit out of his hat.

The interesting thing is that Senators are whispering about it behind scenes.

Marry-Go-Round

—By HELEN ROWLAND—

A MAN cannot be wholly in love with two women at a time. He can be only HALF in love with one woman and 50 per cent in love with the other, according to the deduction of an eminent psychiatrist.

This may come as a shock to some men who are sure that they are in love with two charming girls and simply can't give up either. Nearly every man has, at some time, been in this predicament. We never knew that love could be measured out scientifically, like the ingredients in a cocktail.

According to the [illegible] King [illegible] was very much seventeen-hundred in love with Pharaoh's daughter. (But that's not what he TOLD her.)

But how can [illegible] be sure that a man [illegible] half in love with [illegible] and not [illegible]?

What of Today, Tomorrow?

Registrar Tells How To End Road Deaths

What are the Motor Vehicle Registrars doing to drive death from the highways?

Why does the slaughter continue and who is responsible for it?

Today these questions are answered for the Boston Evening American by Frank A. Goodwin, veteran Massachusetts registrar.

By PAUL WHELTON

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

If we could eliminate speed, selfishness and drinking on the part of men and women who go behind the wheels of automobiles, and plain dumbness on the part of pedestrians, automobile casualties would take a long drop.

This is the opinion of Frank A. Goodwin, motor vehicle registrar for Massachusetts, who has given many of the best years of his life in the cause of safety on the highways.

"It is a pretty difficult job to slow down the death tempo on Massachusetts highways, just as in any other state," he told the Boston Evening American today.

"We do our best to eliminate hazards, to make better driving conditions, to insist on enforcement of traffic regulations, and we try to educate drivers in the tremendous responsibility that is theirs behind a wheel.

"THIS YEAR WE SEEM TO HAVE BEEN MORE SUCCESSFUL. TO DATE THERE IS A 35.7 PER CENT DECREASE OVER LAST YEAR IN PEDESTRIAN DEATHS, A 32.6 PER CENT DECREASE IN DEATHS OF AUTOMOBILE OCCUPANTS.

"A new problem is THE BICYCLE. Youngsters, and adults as well, are becoming increasingly careless HOW and WHERE they operate their bicycles. The result is a 35 PER CENT INCREASE over last year in the number of bicycle fatalities.

Registrar Goodwin

"It is difficult to ascertain just WHO as a class is to blame for the toll on our highways. ONE OF THE STRANGE CONTRADICTIONS OF MY DEPARTMENT IS THAT DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY CAN OFTEN BE TRACED TO OPERATORS WHO ARE TOO CAREFUL.

"In my opinion, men are better automobile drivers than women in emergencies, but women are more cautious under normal driving conditions.

"Some time ago, Dr. Harry De Silvia, the Harvard professor, stated that tests made conclusively showed that women are consistently lower in the physical skill and mental agility needed for driving.

"Perhaps Dr. De Silvia is right. But on the cold accident figures as they stand I guess if we took all the men drivers off the road and allowed only women we would chase death from the highways.

"WOMEN, ON THE WHOLE, CANNOT DRIVE AS WELL AS MEN, BUT SO FAR AS OUR RECORDS SHOW THE WOMEN ARE SAFER DRIVERS THAN THE MEN.

"Men, it seems, know they are good, and consequently have everything to do with death on the highways. Last year, of 784 drivers killed in automobile accidents, 771 were male operators.

"Women apparently know they are not good, and they act accordingly.

"IF WE ARE TO CUT DOWN FATALITIES, ONE OF THE PRIME COMBINATIONS TO BE ELIMINATED IS THAT INVOLVING CARELESS NIGHT DRIVING AND THOUGHTLESS PEDESTRIANS, WHO LINK HANDS WITH DEATH IN THE AFTER-DARK SLAUGHTER.

"THE MOWING DOWN OF PEDESTRIANS ON OUR HIGHWAYS, ESPECIALLY AT NIGHT, IS THE RESULT OF SPEED, SELFISHNESS AND DRINKING ON THE PART OF DRIVERS AND DUMBNESS ON THE PART OF PEDESTRIANS.

"There is one law which I GUARANTEE PERSONALLY will eliminate 75 per cent of the pedestrian deaths in this state of Massachusetts if observed faithfully by operators.

"THAT IS THE LAW WHICH SAYS THAT MOTORISTS UPON APPROACHING A PEDESTRIAN IN THE TRAVELED PART OF THE HIGHWAY MUST SLOW DOWN.

"Too many drivers think that because some pedestrians jump or run out of the way they all are going to do it.

"On the law of averages, just so often a pedestrian does not do it—with the inevitable result.

"And I cannot stress too much the necessity for drivers slowing down at intersections.

"IT HAS BEEN PROVED TO ME THAT A DRIVER CAN SPEED ACROSS AN INTERSECTION AT HIGH SPEED ONLY 25 OR 30 TIMES BEFORE THERE COMES YOUR TURN TO BE 'IT.'

"The twice-yearly compulsory check of automobiles and equipment particularly of brakes, lights and windshield wipers is also aiding in reducing our automobile fatalities.

"Out of more than 1,000,000 automobile owners in the state there will always be some who will not keep their cars in good mechanical condition unless they are forced to do so. That is why we have these checkups twice a year.

"Our accident record proves the effectiveness of the job we do.

"THERE NEVER HAS BEEN A TIME IN ANY STATE, INCLUDING MASSACHUSETTS, WHEN AUTOMOBILES WERE MECHANICALLY SO SAFE AS THEY ARE AT PRESENT, AND OUR ACCIDENT RECORD AS COMPARED TO OTHER STATES PROVES THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE INSPECTIONS.

"Children have been educated in safety in a considerable fashion through the schools, and we have asked them to pass the teachings on to their parents and other adults.

"I WONDER WHAT GRADES THESE ADULTS WOULD RECEIVE IF THEY WERE MARKED.

DEAR ADA: You can probably make good use of a small device which actually rubs away the hair on arms or legs (it is not to be used on the face). This gadget is only 35 cents and may be used as often as you wish. Its action is quite amazing and leaves the skin soft and velvety smooth. Rub with gentle, circular motions. It's said that the gentle action leaves hair ends so frayed and soft that it never again comes up in stubs like chopped down corn stalks. Harriet Attempts To Please Biff

CHAPTER 15

Harriet looked at Gail intently, a strange fear coming over her. "Who are you?" she asked. "And what right do you have to ask me if I think I can sing?"

But meanwhile, Harriet's bravado had been sapped by Biff's coldness. None of the pertness she meant to inject into her remarks came through. Both women sensed the other's interest in Biff, and a spontaneous antagonism arose.

To Harriet, this stunningly-dressed woman, so full of self-assurance, was the reason for Biff's change of attitude toward her. To Gail, Harriet was an unknown quantity in Biff's past.

Gail simply oozed sophistication as the half-disregarded Harriet, while idly blowing rings into the smoke-choked rehearsal room. "I have all the right in the world, my dear. My name is Gail Sinclair. I am putting up the money to make Biff's band possible. And I am doing everything in my power to see that the band is a tremendous success."

Austen Lake Says

Lamentations of Oscar; Idyllic Red Top; Wish

MR. OSCAR ODD VITT, THE CLEVELAND manager, is a man of a few million words. When Mr. Vitt shifts his larynx in high gear words tumble forth like sparks from a roman candle. So now he hugs his knees on the Fenway dugout steps and complains copiously of being persecuted by one Hairless Bill McGowan, the umpire with a narcissus complex who is in love with his own shadow. McGowan is the male Mme. Pavlova among the umpires, who gives renditions of classical terpsichore with his decisions.

Austen Lake

"Look what he does to me," wailed Mr. Vitt, lubricating his lips with a moist tongue. "He orders Johnny Allen to change his shirt. And why? Because Johnny slits a couple of airholes in his sleeve. So Allen foams up and won't pitch unless he pitches in that shirt. I'm the manager. So I gotta fine him $250 because McGowan makes a mistake."

Mr. Vitt simmered with indignation, little bubbles of wrath breaking on his sun-tanned forehead. It was a pure case of persecution by Hairless Bill, the human chihuahua. What is this, Russia?

"Lookee," lamented Mr. Vitt, "we're in St. Louis in April and Allen cuts the plate with his fast ball—s'help me, not just an outside nick, but right in the groove. Hairless Bill calls it a ball. Well that burns Johnny up and I burn too. We both burn. So we rush up to Naked Willie and inquire how in tarnation he could have missed it. 'Me?' says Nude Will, 'Me miss it? I was just feelin' mischievous. Sure it was in the slot, what about it?'

"Now," said Mr. Vitt, "nothing is more offensive about Bare Bill than when he sneers, 'SOoooo Wottt?' with that sinister little curl to his under lip. It makes him look like something that has just swung off the limb of a tree. So maybe Johnny and I say some uncouth remarks, including the little word ending in ouse...What does this person do then? Why he fines both Allen and me $25—for his mistake. And ain't that one for the record?"

Harvard Navy in Spring Manoeuvers

HARVARD'S NAVY MOVES TO RED TOP on Saturday. As a training scene it is unique. There will be no flop-eared sparring partners lounging around the premises as there are at the Schmeling and Louis fight camps, no punching props, no axe with which to pose the athletes on top a training stunt while chopping a property log. No telegraph men will be tuning up their bugs. No detective sergeants on leave from their jobs will be there to warn off process servers. There are no process servers. No precautionary seals on the water bottles and no [illegible] bottles of stimulant with which to cheer the press.

Joe's Wishing Lamp Fails

DURING ONE OF LAST SPRING'S VERANDA sitdowns with the Red Sox at Sarasota, Al Schacht was practicing his character as club cheer director by carrying comedy in the centre of a loafing circle. He starts on Broadway, N. Y. . . . hungry man . . . angel appears and says, 'My records say your record is exemplary. Name your dear eat wish.' . . . One roast beef sandwich, says the man . . . Angel disappears . . . Last 20 years later. Same hungry man . . . Angel reappears and says, 'How?' . . . 'With mustard,' says H. M."

It was typical of Schacht humor and as a matter of policy nobody laughed. So I turned to Joe Cronin and said, "If you had one dear eat wish, what would it be?"

Joe tapped his teeth with his forefinger, "Just to have one of all my young pitchers make me a good relief man who could save ten ball games during the year."

Brennan to Fly To Caesy Bout | Joe Kennedy, Jr., At Agawam

By JACK CONWAY

AGAWAM PARK, Agawam, June 9—Eddie Brennan, general manager of the Agawam race track, is a red hot wrestling fan, and he has made arrangements to fly to Boston following the eighth race next Tuesday to see Steve Casey defend his title as world heavyweight wrestling champion against Yvon Robert . . . Presiding Steward Wilmer Brinton, former Princeton athlete, and Racing Secretary Ty Shea will accompany Brennan on the hop.

Mr Boston

Agawam was formerly an aviation field, and at one time had 420 army planes on the grounds . . . Paul Bowser, promoter of the Casey-Robert bout, is vice-president of Agawam . . . He is getting ready for the Grand Circuit meeting that will open at Agawam the latter part of July.

I met Steve Casey in Springfield on his way to Holyoke, where he wrestled [illegible] in a tune up match for his meeting with Robert on the Garden. The big Irishman looked as if he is in [illegible] condition.

"I shall beat Robert so decidedly on next Tuesday night that there will be not the least question as to who is the better man," said Casey. "I would have scored a second fall against Robert in our last match if Eddie Quinn, Robert's manager, had not jumped into the ring and punched Referee Ted Tonneman on the jaw. Robert certainly merited disqualification as a result of the action of Quinn.

"I have agreed with Robert and Promoter Paul Bowser that there will not be any disqualification in the coming bout, regardless of what may happen in the ring.

"Yvon and myself are anxious to have a definite winner and loser. I believe I am too powerful for the Frenchman and that I will win in straight falls."

[illegible]

Joe Kennedy, Jr., at the Races

JOE KENNEDY, JR., son of the American ambassador to England, attended the races in the company of Attorney Joseph Gargan, [illegible] Mrs. Gargan and Mrs. Paul Bowser. [illegible] the races there was a dinner party at the Highland House . . . Yesterday Kennedy said he is to be invited to read Joseph T Lawlor's article "Can Kennedy Be President" in the Green Magazine of the Boston Sunday Advertiser . . . Young Joe graduates from Harvard the middle of June, and says he plans to spend the summer in England and on the Continent.

Attorney Joseph Gargan is a son-in-law of John F. Fitzgerald and played football at Notre Dame on the same team with Knute Rockne . . . A. P. Nevs, who is here with several horses in the Old Agawam Football Star . . . The better Maryland farmers are sending their [illegible] here for the steeplechase races. The track gives $4,000 to $4,000 on each of these races but makes up for this [illegible] handicap and increased mutuel handle on other races . . . Last Tuesday with a steeplechase race on the card the mutuel handle was $45,000 larger than for the corresponding day of a year ago.

The jumps for the steeplechase races were constructed under the supervision of William Dupont, Jr. . . . They have been placed inside of the track, and the races held so far have been at about two miles . . . I would say the distance was at least a quarter of a mile under the two mile mark as the regulation track is only a mile affair, and the steeplechase course is built back from the inside rail . . . There is one water jump which furnishes its share of spills and thrills . . .

Homer Rainault Picks Louis

HOMER RAINAULT Holyoke boxing promoter who is a daily visitor at the track, is picking Joe Louis to win over Max Schmeling in their 15-round bout at the Yankee Stadium on June 22 . . . Rainault believes age will beat Schmeling and also that Louis will be an improved fighter over the form he showed against Schmeling two years ago . . . Sergeant Eddie Mack, who is working in the press department and who knows his boxing, also likes Louis . . . Col. Dave Egan has gone right out on a limb for Max Schmeling as he did two years ago . . . The Colonel says Louis is still Louis and that Schmeling will pop him on the chin with right hand punches.

German Trains Like Tunney

Schmeling Set For Title Go

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—Bill Osborne, who owns everything around here, including the overgrown cottage in which Max Schmeling lives for the moment, says that the German is an absolute cinch to knock the daylights out of Joe Louis again.

Osborne has been watching the boys go through their paces since Gene Tunney came up in the summer of 1926 to get ready for his first fight with Jack Dempsey. He is sure Max will win because he already saw Tunney [illegible] books and he [illegible] a lot of [illegible].

"I knew," he recalls, "that Gene was going to win the title. Just like I know now that Max is going to spread Louis like a rug. They are a lot alike if you study them close. Max has that same confidence that Gene had, and he works just as hard.

"Now, take Max Baer on the other hand. I knew he was scared to death the day he left here to go in and fight Louis. He was scared all the time he was training. How anybody picked him to win I can't figure out. Why, did you know that Jack Dempsey slapped him a half dozen times in the dressing room before the fight trying to make him mad and make his knees stop shaking?

"I told everybody what was going to happen to him just like I'm telling you now that Schmeling will bring over that right of his and there will be Louis on the floor. I'm just as sure as that this [illegible] will be frozen over at winter."

Max Picks Joe

To Beat Schmeling

HOLLYWOOD June 9 (AP)—Max Baer, the man who battered two trial horses into weights until their knees smash in his work—he wants a fight just one man, Champion Joe Louis.

"Bring on Louis," panted Max while the lights got adjusted for another movie scene. "Yes, sir, bring him on and I'll win this time."

Manager Ancil Hoffman and Baer predicted Louis would [illegible] a chance to regain the title from Max, who knocked him out.

"Max wants it that way," said Hoffman. "We'd rather have Louis than Schmeling, even though we licked the German once."

Pilot Garry Revere Best

By MURRAY KRAMER

BEST BET—PILOT GARRY, SEVENTH

Pilot Garry, consistent Bud Stanley "pup," should beat the field in the seventh race at Wonderland Park, Revere, tonight, and seems solid enough to label as the best bet of the night.

The eighth race feature is a wide open affair. Loreeta, which is rapidly reaching top form, will be the one to beat with any fair shake of racing luck.

Adamick Wins; Purse Held Up

CHICAGO, June 9 (INS)—Jimmy Adamick, Detroit's young heavyweight sensation, knocked out Jack Trammell, negro giant, in the second round of their scheduled 10-round fight here.

The negro had barely been counted out when Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois Boxing Commission announced both fighters' purses would be held up pending an investigation.

Jimmy Adamick

Early in the battle came with amazing suddenness after the first round finished with the fighters on even terms. Adamick dropped Trammell for the count with a left to the face. The time was 1:56 in the second.

A moment before he fell, Trammell had landed hard with a right, dropping Adamick for a count of four. When Adamick arose, Trammell backed away instead of rushing in for the kill. Triner wants to know why.

The commission will meet June 20 to decide whether the fighters will be paid.

Rio Grand Top Taunton Dog

By MATTHEW KEANEY

BEST BET—RIO GRAND

TAUNTON, June 9—Once again I am taking Rio Grand for my safest wagering hazard on the card at the Taunton dog track.

Last out this one, which I favored so highly, met with some interference at the first turn, hence got nothing. Again it has the red blanket, and again I look for it to head the field to the wire.

There might be occasion to use the camera with Cameron Countess and Ben's Shadow the ones to beat.

For the featured race of the night, the eighth, I am taking Princess Ann to top the pack here.

This one never lost a race out of that slot at the local track last season. Tonight should be no exception.

The rest of the card is a well balanced affair. Gilby's Gin looks all over the winner in the closing number.

FIRST RACE—FUTURITY
(First Half Daily Double)

MISS CLAREMORE, TINY PARADE, MARFAK

PP.	Dogs	Wt.	Owner	Odds
1	Miss Claremont	53	John Highhouse	4-1
2	Tiny Parade	45	K. Rhine	5-1
7	Marfak	66	F. E. Stotz	6-1
3	Donna G	52	Hubert Bryant	6-1
4	El Mar	48	Cedar Pt. Ken.	6-1
5	Vernon Glee	60	F. Street	8-1
8	Palagin	60	A. L. Smart	8-1
6	Red Shamrock	64	Fred Palermo	10-1

The red blanket gives Red HIGHHOUSE the edge in this number with TINY PARADE the one to beat. Reliable old MARFAK for the rest.

SECOND RACE—FUTURITY
(Second Half Daily Double)

RED TONG, JEFF HICKS, FIKE LIMITED

2	Red Tong	62	Fred Street	2-1
7	Jeff Hicks	63	John Highhouse	3-1
5	Fike Limited	60	A. L. Smart	4-1
4	Haberdasher	66	C. Dahlberg	6-1
1	Pepper Boy	63	Tom Baird	6-1
6	Idle Money	61	Ben Neal, Jr.	8-1
8	Fate Down	51	F. L. Brunts	10-1
3	Miss Hi Speed	54	O. and B. Ken.	10-1

It is difficult to separate the top two in this number, but RED TONG, a good winner in Florida, has schooled well. FIKE LIMITED won its last and should be in the money.

THIRD RACE—5-16TH MILE

1	Claudie	53	A. L. Smart	4-1
4	Real Shy	64	Cedar Pt. Ken.	5-1
2	Mary Marders	58	Ben Neal, Jr.	5-1
5	Red Rajah	65	W. B. Hall	6-1
6	Manna	53	Tom Baird	6-1
3	Red Glee	48	L. M. Kilpatrick	8-1
7	Mental Test	54	C. Dahlberg	8-1
8	Frisco Bebe	50	K. Rhine	10-1

The inside post gives the top one the nod with the experienced REAL SHY to furnish the contention. MARY MARDERS should garner the rest.

FOURTH RACE—FUTURITY
ROSAMOND, FLEETWAY, BEADED WINGS

4	Rosamond	70	J. Ayotte	5-1
8	Fleetway	60	M. J. Gavan	4-1
2	Beaded Wings	50	Dan Sullivan	4-1
1	Roundabout	62	Cedar Pt. Ken.	5-1
5	Rusty Collier	74	O and B Ken.	6-1
3	Lotty Hale	70	Forbes Spencer	8-1
6	Josephine Glee	50	O. Dahlberg	8-1
7	Toy Haft	62	G. H. Rogers	8-1

The Woonsocket pup seems the best in this number with FLEETWAY, which has showed well, the one to beat, BEADED WINGS for the instance.

FIFTH RACE—5-16TH MILE
PRAIRIE MOON, TRAFFIC NELL, KNEADER

2	Prairie Moon	70	W. Lee Bryant	5-1
1	Traffic Nell	46	Frank Lane	5-1
7	Kneader	57	M. J. Gavan	8-2
6	Can't Tell It	74	Jesse Williams	8-1
3	Side Wheeler	61	K. Rhine	6-1
4	Tavern's Hotch	62	O. H. Whitnauf	6-1
5	Gleeon	64	C. Dahlberg	8-1
8	Forty Hare	53	Forbes Spencer	10-1

PRAIRIE MOON has both the luck and experience needed to win here, though TRAFFIC NELL, which broke the rail, will make it interesting. KNEADER should be close.

SIXTH RACE—FUTURITY
PEGGY GLENN, GIRL CRAZY, TUG TONE

3	Peggy Glenn	48	John Highhouse	3-1
2	Girl Crazy	60	Jesse Williams	3-1
1	Tug Tone	61	Paul Bodge	4-1
4	Meadow Cutlet	64	M. C. Sparks	5-1
6	Last Out	67	L. M. Kirkpatrick	5-1
5	Big Boston	60	Ben Neal, Jr.	6-1
7	Bredfield	63	W. B. Hall	8-1
8	Lady Detour	52	O and B. Ken.	10-1

PEGGY GLENN a flash from the gate, figures to head GIRL CRAZY to the first turn and stay there, TUG TONE should be in the money.

SEVENTH RACE—5-16TH MILE
RIO GRAND, CAMERON COUNTESS, BEN'S SHADOW

1	Rio Grand	68	Jess Williams	3-1
7	Cameron Offass	52	Hubert Bryant	4-1
2	Ben's Shadow	60	M. J. Gavan	5-1
3	Speedy Lad	60	E. Rhine	5-1
5	Jonta, Go By	72	Fred Street	6-1
4	Go Lucky	62	Ben Neal, Jr.	6-1
8	Bright Beaver	65	Tom Baird	8-1
6	Guess Why	67	Forbes Spencer	10-1

RIO GRANDE last was not true, and the experience should be beneficial. CAMERON COUNTESS just missed and last for the outside post would win here. BEN'S SHADOW for the chance.

EIGHTH RACE—FUTURITY
PRINCESS ANN, GUIDING HAND, ALLA FAME

4	Princess Ann	59	Cedar Pt. Ken.	2-1
5	Guiding Hand	69	Forbes Spencer	4-1
6	Alla Fame	68	O. H. Whitnauf	5-1
1	Charlyn Cat's	73	C. A. Rhodes	5-1
2	Parade	66	John Highhouse	6-1
7	Glamorous Girl	56	M. C. Sparks	6-1
8	Race Trader	59	Pat Conway	8-1
3	London Market	71	L. M. Kilpatrick	10-1

PRINCESS ANN never lost at this track from the four ins and figures to repeat with the improved GUIDING HAND the one to beat. ALLA FAME should be in the money.

NINTH RACE—5-16TH MILE
APPOLLO, MISS SIMPSON, PUDDLES

1	Appollo	65	O. H. Whitnauf	3-1
2	Miss Simpson	57	J. L. Austin	3-1
3	Puddles	66	Cedar Pt. Ken.	4-1
4	Skipper	69	W. Lee Bryant	5-1
5	Another Chord	71	Fred Street	5-1
7	Muddler	72	K. Stephanos	6-1
6	Anna Darling	65	M. J. Gavan	8-1
8	Black Moon	64	Gen. Lippold, Jr.	8-1

APPOLLO'S last was sparkling and if repeated here, means the win, with MISS SIMPSON the one to beat. PUDDLES should get into the money.

TENTH RACE—5-16TH MILE
GILBY'S GIN, FAWN FOX, GO PAT

1	Gilby's Gin	64	Dan Sullivan	3-1
2	Fawn Fox	56	Fred Street	4-1
3	Go Pat	56	Tom Baird	4-1
4	My Cherry	55	Tom Baird	5-1
6	Wheeler	62	E. Rhine	6-1
7	Jerry Hicks	67	John Highhouse	6-1
5	Brook Lily	49	F. L. Brunts	8-1
8	Magic Jamestown	69	O. H. Whitnauf	10-1

The top one, as good as its name, should win from the inside box, though FAWN FOX, if it runs back to its last, will make it interesting. GO PAT'S last includes a money chance.

Helen Jacobs Dropped From Team

Sarah Takes Up Position

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 9 (AP)—Suffering from a stiff neck and shoulder, Helen Jacobs today was dropped from America's Wightman Cup tennis team which meets Great Britain tomorrow and Saturday.

Miss Jacobs caught a bad cold last week and the after-effects so handicapped her that she had to stop practice yesterday after a sing'l set.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan will substitute for her as the No. 3 singles player, the No. 1 and No. 2 places going to Alice Marble and Helen Wills Moody.

The pairings for the two-day series:

TOMORROW

Singles: Miss Marble vs. Kay Stammers; Mrs. Moody vs. Margaret Scriven.

Doubles: Mrs. Fabyan and Miss Marble vs. Freda James and Margot Lumb.

SATURDAY

Singles: Miss Lumb vs. Mrs. Fabyan; Miss Stammers vs. Mrs. Moody; Miss Marble vs. Miss Scriven.

Doubles: Mrs. Moody and Dorothy Bundy vs. Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram.

When Sun Was Shining for Cubs

Cubs first sacker, Jimmy Collins, makes fast entry into third base in second inning of first game with Giants. Cubs scored twice in this inning. But Giants came back to win out in 10th, 4-2. Also took second, 4-1, and league lead. That's Mel Ott with the No. 4 on his back. Charlie Grimm's doing the hollering.

Bingham In Row on Olympics

committee and have nothing to do with the running of the games.

"It would be out of place for me to talk about a member of a higher committee."

Larry Johnson of Wollesion, member of the aush-committee on swimming, commented:

"If China cannot compete in Japan—and she certainly won't—I don't see how the games can be held there. Japan has said that if China continues with the war, their athletes won't be welcome. That is hypocrisy.

"Of course our country has only one vote as to where we go.

"Instead of resigning, I'd rather stay along and use my influence from the inside. I said that to Bill last night, but he felt differently. I want to stay and fight for my principles.

"London and Finland are under consideration, I understand, and if enough countries refuse to send teams to Japan the games won't be held there. That will come up at the meeting June 26."

Bingham himself expressed amazement today that announcement of his resignation had created such a furore, but he declined to add anything to his statement of last night.

REGRETS BRUNDAGE BURDEN

In his banquet remarks the athletic head at Harvard also "deplored" the fact that Brundage, who led the Americans to Berlin in 1936, had been forced to "take the rap" for the Eleanor Holm Jarrett explosion.

Bingham also scored the note of professionalism creeping, he said, into amateur sports.

OUT OF SYMPATHY

"I do not see how anyone could be expected to support an Olympic tour to participate in such a country as Japan when she supports such policies as she stands for today," he told the gathering in announcing his resignation.

When he attended the 1936 and field events, he explained, he games in Berlin at head of track was entirely out of sympathy with Hitler, but pointed out that Berlin had been chosen as the Olympic site in 1932, when Hitler was almost an unknown.

REFERS TO ELEANOR

In referring to the Eleanor Holm incident, in which she was banned from the swimming team for drinking champagne on board ship, Bingham deorted the publicity it received, and declared she was not the proper type to represent the United States in such "idealistic" games.

"It is too bad that a man of fine reputation like Avery Brundage, should have to take the rap for it," he said.

'Joe, This Is How It's Done'

JOE LOUIS, who defends his title against Max Schmeling, took time out so as to get the inside dope from Henry Armstrong, who is the most talked about fighter in the world today. Henry holds two world's titles now and is gunning for the third when he faces Lou Ambers next month.

Gehrig Needs Rest, Says Jimmy Dykes

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Jimmy Thomson is our boy in the open . . . even if he doesn't win, he certainly won't make a sucker out of you . . .George Parnassus has rounded up 50,000 iron men to guarantee Henry Armstrong if the Negro will defend his welterweight title against Ceferino Garcia.

Sam Chapman, the California collegian, who has put new life into the Athletics, was recommended to Connie Mack by old Ty Cobb, and Connie signed the youngster (for a stiff bonus too), without even having him scouted . . . The Yanks had better hurry up and get that other starting pitcher . . .

Bobby Grayson, than whom there is no whomer around the Stanford campus, says the Injuns (of whom he is assistant coach) will be playing in the Rose Bowl next January 1 . . . which is what we call going on the limb whole hog.

Box (X-ray) Ray of the Los Angeles Times can bear down when he wants . . . The other day he felt a little mean and popped off, to wit: "Max Schmeling is using Butch Rogers as a sparring partner in order to get practice going to neutral corners," and "Freddie Steele, middleweight champ, meets Solly Krieger June 14 at Seattle . . .Krieger qualified for the shot by losing to Glen Lee recently in New York" . . . Aw, Bob, have a heart, P-L-E-A-S-E . . .

Freddie Haas appeared for his first round in the British amateurs wearing his old L. S. U. sweater . . . The picture made all the London papers and is the reason why nobody can speak to Mr. Red Heard, L. S. U. athletic director, these days.

Dutch Reuther, the old pitcher, is looking 'em over in the West for the Cubs . . . Marty Levinson, North Carolina's frosh boxing coach a few years back, is on the market for a high school coaching job and offers to teach Latin or English on the side . . .

Connie Mack, who can go back a long way in baseball, says Mickey Cochrane is the No. 1 catcher in his book . . . When Jimmy Dykes ordered Pitcher Cox to walk Lou Gehrig in the first game yesterday, Cox complied with four curves that were at least six feet from the plate . . . Dykes says if Gehrig would forget his consecutive game performance and go fishing for a week, he'd come back and hit .500.

Yale Crews Set Sail For Race

NEW HAVEN, Ct., June 9 (AP)—The Yale varsity and jayvee oarsmen left today for a three-week stand at the Gales Ferry training camp on the Thames River, a few miles upstream from where they race the Harvard crews at New London June 24.

The crews made the trip on the yacht "Wild Fire" of C. B. Levey. The usual pre-race schedule of two workouts a day will begin tomorrow. Head Coach Ed Leader said he foresaw no change in the varsity boating.

The Harvard and Yale varsities, for the first time in history, will start the race with an undefeated season behind them. This year, the varsity four-mile pull will be upstream, four-mile pull will be at Bartlett's Cove. The freshmen and jayvee races will be rowed downstream.

Harvard Crews Leave Saturday

Harvard's four crews, varsity, junior varsity, combination and freshman, will leave Saturday for Red Top, Conn., not far from New London, where they will race against Yale's oarsmen June 24.

John L.'s Manager Dies in New York

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Arthur T. Lumley, manager of John L. Sullivan and other boxing notables, editor and cartoonist, was dead here today at 86, after a long and active career that covered a multitude of interests.

In addition to managing Sullivan during his 75-round bare-knuckle fight with Jake Kilrain in 1889, he also managed Bob Fitzsimmons.

Lindys Quit England for Lonely Isle

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh have left Long Barn, in Kent, their English home for two and a half years.

Friends said presumably they had gone to lonely Illiec island, off the coast of France's Brittany, which the flier bought last April.

A reliable source said the Lindberghs had given up their farmhouse for good and, with their two sons, Jon and Land, left the country "several days ago."

"I know they intend to go to Illiec island, but whether they have gone there directly I cannot say," this source asserted.

Only last week Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh attended Britain's royal court ball—he in traditional knee breeches.

Up to a month ago, when they began appearing in parties at the home of American-born Lady Astor, they kept almost entirely to themselves while in England.

However, during the past year they have been to the United States and have made frequent flying trips to St. Gildas Island, near Illiec, to visit Dr. Alexis Carrel, with whom Colonel Lindbergh in 1935 developed the "artificial heart."

Forgery Of Names Claimed

"Insurance racket" money raising by un-American factions and forging of nuns' names in "bold and wholesale" padding of election lists by Massachusetts Communists were charged today, as the Commonwealth continued its drive against subversive activities of radical groups.

Revelations of misuse of election machinery by Communists and kindred minorities were followed by testimony telling of activities of so-called foreign benefit societies in raising funds for subversive causes.

Proposed measures for curbing unpatriotic aims of these foreign-controlled societies were subject of heated discussion before the joint legislative committee on insurance.

FORGERY CHARGES

Highlights of prior testimony had been charges of forgery of names of nuns and thousands of other citizens in an effort to give false impressions of Communist party strength.

These charges were made at heavily guarded and crowd-jammed State House hearings.
